

Book Manuscript Workshops

Fall 2005 • Baldy Center for Law & Social Policy

The Baldy Center for Law & Social Policy organizes intensive workshops focused on manuscripts about law or legal institutions, or any aspect of law and social policy authored by a UB faculty member. These workshops are designed to be stimulating interdisciplinary discussions and to provide helpful feedback to authors of a draft book manuscript. A small group of interested faculty, including one or two outside specialists, will read and discuss the manuscript with the author. We will forward copies of the book manuscript to all participants. You are cordially invited to attend the next workshop.
