

The Baldy Center Working Group on Cultural Policy and Cultural Diplomacy
Invites you to a
Work-in-Progress luncheon presentation

Thursday, April 12, 2007, 12:15 – 2:00 pm
5th Floor Conference Center
509A O'Brian Hall

Transformation Through Strategic Planning: Matching Institutional with Community Needs

Michael Sartisky,
Director, Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities

Michael Sartisky will discuss the work involved in making the Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities the largest of all the state humanities councils. LEH has networked and partnered with the universities, schools, museums, libraries, public television and radio, state legislature, municipalities, the philanthropic sector, and community-based organizations. He will be using the example of the Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities as the illustrative model of what is possible, and how it has influenced policy and practices in these partner institutions.

Michael Sartisky is currently president and director of the Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities. He is actively engaged in cultural policy and public education. Sartisky won the Press Club of New Orleans award in 2005 and 2006 for best published editorials.
